

NEW PESSIMISM FELT IN EUROPE AS ITALY BALKS

Mussolini's Last Note Breathes Determination to Take Empire

Geneva, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Publication of Italy's observations, which included the charge that the League of Nations failed to take into consideration Rome's case against Ethiopia, provoked new pessimism today in the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Italy's "observations," which constitute rejection of terms, were contained in the published narrative of the activities of the League's committee of five.

"Italy and the league are miles apart," was the comment of one delegate, and the impression prevails generally that the Italian memorandum breathes a determination—even if veiled—to take possession of Ethiopia, to be achieved by military occupation.

Can't Be Settled
The delegates were especially struck by the phrase that "the Ethiopian problem cannot be settled by means of the league covenant." They also were given pause by Italy's emphasis on "the impossibility of any agreement with Ethiopia" because of the African empire's "incapacity to enter into and still less to respect international agreements of any kind."

The observations said Italy's memorandum to the league on the Ethiopian conflict demonstrated that if the committee's efforts at conciliation were to be at all satisfactory, the Ethiopian problems should have been put in this form:

"(1) The Ethiopian state, properly so-called, should be placed in such a position that it can do no injury to its neighbors, and its administration should be reformed so as to raise the country to a higher level of civilization.

Charges 'Misgovernment'
"(2) The different peoples which are subject to tyranny in Ethiopia and live on frontiers of the country under inhuman conditions should be rescued therefrom."

Italy contended that these frontier peoples should be safeguarded once and for all "from the misgovernment of a country which is not and never will be able to discharge in respect to them the mission incumbent upon a state that contains peoples of different races."

The Italian memorandum objected to the committee's plan as being limited in offering to Ethiopia assistance which, although more extensive in certain aspects, did not differ in principle from assistance offered by the league to other states in temporary difficulties.

BRITAIN SENDS NOTE
Rome, Sept. 25.—(AP)—The Italian government announced in an official communique today that Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign minister, had told Premier Mussolini of Italy that Great Britain was "particularly desirous of eliminating all useless misunderstanding between the two countries."

The communique said this statement was a personal message delivered to Il Duce through Sir Eric Drummond, the British ambassador to Rome, Monday.

The official announcement stated that Italy never would be the first to transfer the Italo-Ethiopian conflict to Europe.

Sir Samuel Hoare was stated to have expressed himself in his message to Mussolini as "an old friend of Italy." Il Duce responded, asking Ambassador Drummond to make it known in London that he appreciated Sir Samuel's communication.

Message Appreciated
The communique added that Sir Samuel's message will be appreciated by the public opinion of Italy because official and unofficial declarations have explained many times that Italy "has not and does not wish to have any differences with England—the difference

Small and Emmerson Invited to Meeting

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Former Governors Len Small and Louis L. Emmerson are among the Republican leaders who have been invited to attend the meeting of the G. O. P. state central committee here Friday.

Nearly a hundred Republicans have been invited by State Chairman John H. Searing of Carbonate and Committeeman William R. Allen of Peoria to attend a luncheon. Officially designated as a social gathering, the assemblage is expected to result in considerable discussion of plans for the 1936 primary.

Col. Frank Knox of the Chicago Daily News, a potential presidential candidate, is among those who will attend. He is to address a Republican meeting at Pekin later in the day. Also invited is Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune.

ETHIOPIA HAS BEGUN MOVING ARMY TO NORTH

Addis Ababa, Sept. 25.—(AP)—All able-bodied warriors of Ethiopia's northern provinces advanced today toward the Eritrean front.

The forces began reforming and expanding the military units which had been disbanded last spring at the tropical rainy season. This now is drawing to an end.

Emperor Haile Selassie today requested the League of Nations to dispatch impartial observers to Ethiopia to investigate present and future allegations of aggression and provocative acts and to fix responsibility in such cases.

The emperor's request was made at the suggestion of Prof. Gaston Jéze, the French lawyer who has acted as one of the Ethiopia's representatives at Geneva.

His majesty assured the league that he would give an inquiry into Ethiopia the fullest collaboration and would accept the commission's findings.

He recalled to the league that, months ago, he had ordered troops withdrawn 20 miles from the frontier to prevent incidents which might give Italy a pretext for attack and emphasized that these orders were carried out fully.

SLAYER OF ACT- RESS NOT NAMED IN JURY VERDICT

Coroner's Inquisitors Say Miss Hoey Died by Unknown Hand

West Chester, Pa., Sept. 25.—(AP)—A double-barrelled grand jury investigation was held possible today as a result of the open verdict returned by a coroner's jury into the death of Evelyn Hoey, blues singer, at the farm home of Henry H. Rogers, third.

The verdict itself paved the way for a grand jury inquiry into the death. Attorneys for Rogers and his cameraman friend, William J. Kelley, announced they would "heartily cooperate" in any similar investigation of the conduct of the coroner's jurors.

The verdict, returned by six jurors last night after nearly five hours of deliberation, said Miss Hoey came to her death in Rogers' country home two weeks ago at the hands of "a person or persons unknown."

Released from Bond
Rogers and Kelley were released from their appearance bond. District Attorney William E. Parke said all the evidence he knows has been presented, "and that does not justify a warrant of arrest."

"We must get additional evidence if any charges are to be brought," Parke said he is "seriously considering" asking the Chester county court for a grand jury inquiry but has not decided on any definite steps.

Lawyers Not Surprised
A statement signed by five lawyers representing Rogers and Kelley said they "are not surprised at the failure of the coroner's jury to find a verdict of death by suicide."

"We say this because of reliable information brought to us that some of the members of the coroner's jury have been privately consulting with representatives of certain newspapers whose sole purpose seems to be to prolong this investigation, and because of declarations by certain jurors of their pre-conceived intention to render a so-called open verdict."

STILL AT NAPERVILLE.
Naperville, Ill.—Two men who identified themselves as Peter Gross and Edward Brown were arrested when agents of the federal alcohol tax unit found a 1,500 gallon still, 2,000 gallon recocker and 100,000 gallons of mash on the Albert Ahart farm near here.

LEGION DEMANDS NO RECOGNITION OF SOVIET GOVT.

Legionnaires Get Down to Business in St. Louis Convention

BULLETIN

Convention Hall, St. Louis, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Cleveland today was awarded the 1936 national convention of the American Legion.

Municipal Auditorium, St. Louis, Sept. 25.—(AP)—The American Legion today asked the United States to withdraw its recognition of Soviet Russia.

Delegates cheered as J. J. Twomey of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee on Americanism, offered the resolution.

After commending legislation for national defense passed by the last congress, the convention adopted a report calling for a concentration of national defense methods.

The resolution urged a standing army of 165,000 enlisted men with 14,000 officers augmented by 210,000 National Guardsmen, and continuation of officers training camps, the C. M. T. C. and R. O. T. C. in schools.

Want Parity Navy
A treaty navy on a parity with any navy in the world manned by 92,000 enlisted men and 15,000 officers, and new naval training ships also was recommended.

The veterans then went on record opposing the consolidation of army, navy and marine flying corps, and asked increased provisions for coast defense. They commended the program of civilian air reserves training corps.

The Soviet resolution, one of 21 submitted and approved, charged the Soviet government with continuing "inimical and subversive agitation" which it had promised would cease upon its recognition by this country.

Active opposition to "Nazi-ism, Fascism, Communism and other isms contrary to the principles enunciated in the Constitution" was voted in another resolution.

Legislative Program
As a matter to be considered in its legislative program, the Legionnaires voted demands for closing of all immigration for ten years, deportation of undesirable and destitute aliens, and finger printing of all persons.

A vigorous foreign program, built around future world peace, was adopted by the delegates. The Legion was called upon to ask all realistic realization of world peace.

Delegates voted to commend the neutrality resolution of the last congress, and asked the government to continue its efforts for collection of war debts.

It also was decided to send a letter of sympathy to Leopold III of Belgium, whose queen was fatally injured in a recent automobile accident.

Confession of Wife Murderer Admitted

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Over objections by the defense, the signed confession of Newell P. Sherman, 26, choir singer and Scout Master, on trial for the alleged murder of his wife, was admitted in evidence today.

Defense objections were based upon the contention admissions in the document were obtained under duress.

This was denied by Lt. Edward J. McCarthy, who insisted the burly defendant voluntarily confessed he drowned Alice Dudley Sherman, 22, mother of his two children, so he could wed Esther Magill, 18-year-old Whitinsville girl.

Illinois Mother Regains Her Child

Detroit, Sept. 25.—(AP)—A mother who pursued her divorced husband from Alton, Ill., to Detroit to regain custody of their 16-month-old son had attained her goal today.

The woman, Mrs. Mildred Kathryn Bass, located her husband, John, and the child, who had been placed in her custody through an Illinois divorce decree, at the home of his sister here. She hailed him into Wayne county circuit court yesterday.

Judge Adolf F. Marsch ordered the baby returned to its mother.

Springfield Tire & Supply House Bombed

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 25.—(AP)—A black powder bomb caused damage estimated at not more than $175 to a tire and supply building here at 3:10 A. M. today. D. B. Hodges, the proprietor, said labor trouble might have been the cause.

Two months ago an explosion, believed to have been caused by leaking gas, did $5,000 damage to the building and injured a woman.

Lions Escaped

...Addis Ababa, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Five of Emperor Haile Selassie's big lions escaped today, killed one sentry, and injured five more, two gravely.

In their rush for freedom they devoured several of the emperor's pedigreed Australian sheep and killed two horses.

Colonel Mekouria, the commander of the imperial guard, seized a machine gun and shot all five beasts in succession.

During the night, the lion keeper apparently had allowed the cage door to remain open, permitting the animals to escape from from the communicating cages.

LOUIS TO TOUR FOREIGN LANDS SEEKING FIGHTS

Schmeling His Next Opponent in March to Heavyweight Title

New York, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Joe Louis, the battling bridgegroom, agreed today to plans for a foreign tour, including fights in South America and European capitals, under the promotion of Mike Jacobs.

Jacobs, who staged the million-dollar spectacle last night featured by the Brown Bomber's four-round knockout of Max Baer, announced his intention of taking Louis abroad after pitting the negro against the best available opponent in a charity match at the Coliseum, Bronx indoor arena, late this November.

The German heavyweight, Walter Neusel, if successful against Primo Carnera in a match scheduled for Nov. 1 at Madison Square Garden, will be matched with Louis, according to Jacobs, who also revealed definitely that contracts will be drawn up giving him exclusive option on the Bomber's fighting services until Jan. 1, 1940.

While in Europe, this winter, Jacobs plans to close negotiations with Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight champion, for a 15-round bout in New York in June, 1936, the winner to fight James J. Braddock in September for the title.

Schmeling, who declined an offer to return to the United States this year and fight Louis, indicated in Germany he would be in a receptive mood for a better proposition next year. The German made a fistie come-back this spring and is generally considered the next logical opponent for Louis in an outdoor spectacle, to be staged at the Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds.

Louis Disappointed.
Anxious to take his bride on a tour to see the world at large, now that he is in the "big money," Louis told Jacobs he wanted to fight as often as possible.

The Negro expressed regret when the promoter advised him no match would be available for at least two months.

World interest unquestionably has been aroused by the Negro's dramatic rise to pugilistic heights and Jacobs intends to lose no time "cashing in" on it.

The chief problem is finding enough opponents for Louis. His crushing victory over Baer left critics today acclaiming him as the greatest fighter his race has produced since Sam Langford, the Boston "Tar Baby," or Jack Johnson, only Negro to hold the world title. Observers were almost unanimous in saying Louis outclasses any heavyweight now in sight.

Million Dollar Show.
Revised official figures today showed last night's show was a million-dollar spectacle, after all.

The gross gate receipts, according to Jacobs, totaled $948,352.17. To this was added $27,000 paid for the ringside broadcast and $25,000 for the motion pictures, sending the total to $1,000,352.17.

The net receipts amounted to $804,955.30, of which ten per cent went to the Free Milk Fund for Babies, Inc.

The 30 per cent share for Louis came to $241,337.93. Baer getting a net 25 per cent, collected $181,149.99.

The net paid attendance totaled 83,462, greatest for any fight ever held in New York.

Baer, his spirits crushed and his fighting career obviously ended, kept in seclusion with his family. According to reports reaching the promoter's offices, Max was treated by a physician for a "pain in the neck" due to the slashing attack that had him on the floor three times last night and left him fearfully battered. The Californian was cut severely about the nose and mouth.

DENY IL DUCE'S REGIME IS FAC- ING OVERTHROW

London, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Official Italian quarters expressed amazement today at rumors of a possible overthrow of Premier Mussolini—rumors which apparently emanated from London last week-end and now have spread to Paris and America.

These officials said that stories that Crown Prince Umberto or Gen. Italo Balbo might seize upon the present Ethiopian crisis as a challenge to the leadership of Il Duce were "utterly foolish."

The reports originated in a London Sunday newspaper which stated: "At a meeting a few days ago, there were sharp words between the prince and Il Duce. The former is said to have declared roundly that if he were king he would appeal to the people over the head of Mussolini."

The newspaper said "influential quarters" were reported to be urging Balbo to remain in Rome in the event of war "as Balbo is the only one big enough to lead a revolt against the dictator."

Says Administration Helps Labor Dodge Rightful Position

Chicago, Sept. 25.—(AP)—James A. Emery, general counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, accused the Roosevelt administration today of helping labor dodge its rightful responsibilities.

The Wagner labor relations act gives labor unions new privileges at the employers' expense but does nothing to force the union to assume "legal liability" for their acts and contracts, Emery said in an address to the American Mining Congress. Earlier the congress heard forecasts of the iron ore supply. Enough iron ore to supply the country's iron and steel industry for at least another generation lies unmined in the Lake Superior district, the group was told.

35,000 Children in Eucharistic Praise

Cleveland, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Thousands of children sang a chorus of praise to their Eucharistic Savior today as they attended a solemn pontifical mass to initiate the third day's ceremonies of the seventh national Eucharistic congress.

The children transformed the vast Stadium on the shores of Lake Erie into a field of immaculate white, emphasizing the rich hues of the robes worn by church dignitaries. The weather was perfect.

Patrick Cardinal Hayes of New York, the personal representative of Pope Pius XI to the religious festival, was visibly delighted by the throng of eager youngsters participating in the ancient rites of the church.

Stadium officials estimated 35,000 school children and nuns, and 15,000 adults participated in the impressive service.

Horner to St. Louis to See Cubs and Cards

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Governor Horner played the role of baseball fan again today, going to St. Louis to see the first game of the Cub-Cardinal series for the National League pennant.

The governor saw one of the games of the recent New York series at St. Louis.

ENLARGE REFUGEE

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt issued an executive order today setting aside lands on Lost Island and Belvidere Island in Buffalo county, Wis., and four other small Mississippi river islands between Rock Island, Ill., and Wabasha, Minn., as additions to the upper Mississippi river wild life and fish refuge.

NO TOWNSHIP TAX.

LaSalle, Ill.—Joseph Mankowski, clerk of Peru township, LaSalle county, said the transfer of pauper care to the county probably would make it necessary to levy a township tax in 1936. A balance on hand would take care of expenses, he said.

TRIPLE FATALITY.

Chicago—Neils Larson, 50, and Patrick Haloran, 40, fell to their death from a third floor scaffold on which they were working and Mrs. Thomas Corcoran, 42, was killed either by one of the hurtling bodies or a tool which fell with them.

BLAST KILLED BOY.

Chicago—Frank De Vuono, 6, walking past a garage in which workmen were installing gasoline tanks, was killed when the wall of the building was blown out by an explosion. His companion Charles Otte, 9, was seriously injured.

FLED FROM GUARDS.

Chicago—John J. Rushkewicz, 30, an inmate of the Elgin State Hospital, is the object of a police search while witnessing a ball game with 11 other inmates at Wrigley Field.

FINAL TAPS IS SOUNDED TODAY FOR A PATRIOT

Charles W. Johnson is Called to Rest With Nation's Heroes

Charles W. Johnson, for many years a resident of Dixon, died at his home, 614 Brinton Avenue, this morning about 11 o'clock, after a lingering illness, at the age of 90 years.

Mr. Johnson was born near Harper's Ferry, in what is now West Virginia on May 27th, 1845. His father, Aaron H. Johnson, was a descendant of an English patriot, who served in the Colonial Army during the War of the Revolution, and who received a severe wound at the battle of Monmouth. His mother, Marietta Boone, was a daughter of Daniel Boone, who was a nephew of the renowned Daniel Boone of Kentucky history.

To Illinois by Wagon
With his father and mother, Charles W. Johnson came to Illinois by wagon when he was about one year old, coming by way of Chillicothe and Zanesville, Ohio, Terre Haute, Indiana, and Mattoon, Illinois. Crossing the upper ferry at Grand Detour, they reached Mt. Morris October 16th, 1846. They settled on a farm adjoining what is now "The Pines" State Park, then virgin territory. Here he grew to young manhood, enlisting in Company 1, 140th Illinois Volunteer Infantry during the War of the Rebellion. After his discharge from service he married Savilla Bovey, daughter of Samuel Bovey, who resided near the "Pennsylvania Corners" in Grand Detour Township, on December 29th, 1868.

He taught school and engaged in farming near Grand Detour, where he met with success in his work.

Was Staunch Patriot
He was always a staunch patriot, and a very public spirited citizen, doing everything possible for the good of the communities in which he resided, and made many loyal life-long friends.

For many years he served as Supervisor of Grand Detour township and in other town offices, and was largely instrumental in securing the bridge across Rock river at Grand Detour. After his removal to Dixon, he participated in the affairs of the G. A. R. Post, serving in various official capacities.

For many years he was a devoted member of the Christian church, believing that Christian training is essential to good citizenship, and lending his support and influence in every way to the promotion of Christian teaching.

Funeral Friday
Of his brothers and sisters only one, Albert M. Johnson of Polo, is living. Surviving him are his wife and five children; Mrs. Jerome P. Cox, Mrs. Nellie Palmer, Francis M. and Bess L. Johnson, all of Dixon, and Mrs. Finis Idemmen of New York City; also ten grand-children and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Christian church in Dixon on Friday afternoon, Sept. 27th at 2:30 P. M. with Rev. James A. Barnett officiating. Interment in Oakwood cemetery.

Gambling Expose in Daily Illini Stirs Mayor of Champaign

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Mayor James Flynn said today he would make every effort to learn the name of the reporter who wrote a gambling "expose" for the Daily Illini, student newspaper at the University of Illinois.

Mayor Flynn declared he wanted to identify the writer so a warrant could be sworn out for the gambler. Elbert L. Herron, managing editor of the university newspaper, said the mayor informed him he would be brought before the grand jury in the hope of forcing him to name the writer.

The story gave a detailed account of a visit to an alleged handbook close on the heels of the mayor's statement that gambling in Champaign had been suppressed.

A. C. Willard, president of the university, said no pressure would be brought through officials of the school to compel Herron to announce the writer's name.

Senator Lewis is Reported Improved

Moscow, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Doctors announced a "distinct improvement" today in the condition of Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, seriously ill with pneumonia.

The physician to the United States embassy, Dr. A. Rumreich, reported at noon that the senator's heart action was better, his pulse slower, his temperature lower and the toxemia less marked.

The pneumonia was still confined to the right lung and showed signs of clearing up. Dr. Rumreich said, but the patient was not yet out of danger.

MINERS' PARLEY REMAINS AT IM- PASSE, REPORT

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Soft coal miners and operators remained deadlocked in their wage negotiations today as the United Mine Workers continued a widespread strike they began Monday morning.

The negotiating committee gathered for another session at 9:30 A. M., but there was no indication of an immediate break in the impasse.

"No progress" was the report Van A. Bitner, southern West Virginia district president of the mine union made as he emerged from the conference room last night.

A difference of only a cent and a half on tonnage rates paid to the miners who dig and load the coal still was all that separated the workers and producers from an agreement to replace the old wage contract which originally expired last April 1. Since that time it has been extended five times.

That the miners, some of whom predicted privately they would win their demands, would not retreat from their stand was indicated by a statement by John L. Lewis, president of the national organization.

DECIDED TURN TO REPUBLICAN PARTY IS SEEN

Executive Committee is Optimistic After Meeting Today

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Republican party chieftains, gathered here today to discuss finances for the 1936 presidential campaign, reported "a decided trend in our favor" in popular sentiment.

Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee told newsmen after the morning session of the executive committee, that means of raising funds for the campaign had been discussed but no decisions made either on finances or strategy.

Asked what reports committee members had brought of popular support in their areas, Fletcher said there had been little discussion of that, but added:

Decided Trend.
"As far as we have gone everywhere we had noticed a decided trend in our favor in every state we have discussed."

Fletcher said he was already pledged to open a western headquarters in conjunction with the "grass roots" conference "as soon as practicable" but that no definite arrangement was made at today's morning session.

"We did not discuss candidates and we will not, nor did we discuss platforms," Fletcher said.

Asked if candidacies had been discussed on the train last night as committeemen rode to Washington from the Baer-Louis fight in New York, the Republican chairman jokingly replied "Joe Louis was the principal candidate discussed."

No Secret Fund.

Most of the morning session, Fletcher said, was devoted to consideration of a report by George F. Getz of Illinois, national treasurer, and the prospects for raising funds.

"The prospect is good for getting a substantial campaign fund and it is not going to be secret, either," Fletcher reported to the newsmen in a room adjacent to the conference.

The statement evidently was in reply to assertions of Postmaster General Farley that Republicans should be required to list receipts of a corporation he said was being formed to acquire funds secretly.

Charges Against Grange Dismissed

Chicago, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Judge Eugene J. Holland today dismissed a charge of leaving the scene of an accident against Harold "Red" Grange, former college and professional football star and now assistant coach of the Chicago Bears pro eleven.

The charge was filed after an accident involving Grange's car and that of Hjalmar Lenander. Grange said he only drove his car a short distance from the scene to find a parking place.

Relatives Will Plead for Convicted Perjurer

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Sentencing of Virgil McAnelly, convicted of giving false testimony in his suit for divorce, today was postponed until Friday to allow relatives time to come here from Bloomington, Ill. McAnelly's home, to plead for him.

McAnelly's wife testified at his trial she had lived with him until a few weeks before he filed suit for divorce, claiming he had not seen her for more than a year.

FULL AUDIT OF COUNTY'S BOOKS IS IMPOSSIBLE

Some Old Records Were Destroyed After Pre- vious Accountings

C. G. Wood, of Rockford, chief of the auditors who are canvassing the records in the offices of Lee county officials, told the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon that because of the fact that some records had been removed from certain offices, or had been destroyed, only a semi-detailed audit can be made, covering a period of one year instead of a period of eight years. The chief auditor was summoned to appear before the board and explain the progress of the audit by supervisors who had heard rumors that the audit would not cover the eight year period specified in the resolution of the finance committee which prompted the investigation of the county records.

A SAD SLUMP

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

"ARE you going to be, soon, then? I'll promise not to tell if you don't want me to," said little Clarissa, in an Edith Wharton story, as she wound her arms about Susy's neck caressingly.

"Going to be divorced? Of course not! What in the world made you think so?" asked Susy in amazement, as she held her close. "Because you look so awfully happy," said Clarissa very simply.

Such talk in the nursery fills one with dismay, and it is not so rare as some imagine in an age when the difficulty of duty is a reason for shirking it; when we are soft, flabby and morally short of wind. Today, if a thing is disagreeable we do not do it. Homes are wrecked, social life undermined, and children sent adrift, because "I was unhappy" as in business laws are broken because a man must go on.

One of our great cities divorces have increased eighty per cent in one year, in another, seventy-two per cent. It is appalling how glibly marriage vows are taken, and how lightly they are broken.

Nearly half of the divorces are obtained during the first five years of married life and most of the other half in the silly season of life, between forty-eight and sixty, when there is a let-down.

If divorces increase at the present rate, a child ten ears old today will have a fifty-fifty chance of a permanent marriage when it grows up. No one can ponder such facts without a sense of misgiving.

Why should it be so? Is it because we are so touchy, so sensitively selfish and have so many complexes, that we can hardly live with ourselves, much less with anyone else for very long?

Or is it due to the doctrine now in vogue that each must "live his own life," regardless, which makes it difficult to make adjustment in marriage, and unwilling to play give and take, because we want everything?

No matter; the facts stare us in the face, revealing a sad slump, a devastating depression which threatens the stability of the home and the security of the most precious assets of human life.

Mrs. Kennedy's New Book Is Published

The book "From Then To Now," written by Lurene Nelson Kennedy, is just off the press. This book is especially timely as it deals with the beginning of our recorded civilization and carries it down to the present day with its unsettled conditions, according to the Bible and history. It reveals many startling facts and explodes numerous theories which will give the reader a new outlook on history. These books are now available at the local book stores.

To Celebrate 28th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Randall will entertain a few friends this evening in celebration of the 28th wedding anniversary.

SPENT LAST THURSDAY IN ARLINGTON, ILL.

There are 701.3 persons to the square mile in England.

Series of Concerts To Be Sponsored By Star and Shrine

A series of concerts, including many celebrities and all high class attractions, will be sponsored by the Corinthian Shrine No. 40 of the White Shrine of Jerusalem and by Dorothy Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star. There will be four concerts, the first being the Madrigal Quartet, the second Ilsa Neimack, violinist, assisted by Maurice Parzbock, contralto; appearing Jan. 15th, the third number will be Reinhold Smith, March 11th, bass baritone, of the Chicago Grand Opera Co.; the last number is Agnes McCay, soprano, assisted by Marian Van Ness, harpist, appearing May 5th.

The first concert of the series will be held at Masonic Temple on the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 16th, the attraction to be the Madrigal Quartet, which comes highly recommended by critics; the press notices being most complimentary. The personnel of the quartet is Annette Thorn, soprano; Ruth Marjorie Slater, contralto; John Eliot, tenor; Ludlow White, baritone.

The Madrigal quartet, which is scheduled for Oct. 16th represents still another musical treat on the series. Each of the four singers has won a reputation as a concert artist and only because it was discovered that the four voices blended with an unusual degree of perfection that they decided to associate as a quartette. They have sung together constantly for more than two years and have become as one instrument with lovely tone and harmony.

They are young and American trained with personalities as pleasing as their voices. Annette Thorn, the soprano, has an unusually great range and flexibility. Her triumphs would do credit to a veteran artist and she has sung with success in opera as well as in concert.

Ruth Marjorie Slater, a native of Champaign, Ill., is the contralto. It is said to have the warmth and color usually associated with that type of voice and her solo reputation warrants the conclusion that she is a valuable and essential part of the quartet, with a brilliant future before her.

The tenor is John Eliot, prominent among lyric and dramatic tenors of today. With a voice virile, suave and expressive he combines a warm though brilliant tone with remarkable sweetness.

The baritone, Ludlow White, startled critics during his first appearance with a combination of talent and personality that boded well for later triumphs which the prophets have watched with satisfaction. Many of them believe that he has one of the greatest voices of the day.

Tina Mae Haines will be the accompanist for the quartet. She has a reputation of her own as an artist apart from her skill as accompanist.

Threshers Enjoyed Picnic at Lowell

On Sunday, Sept. 22, a very enjoyable picnic was held at Lowell Park, sponsored by Daniel Ortgiesen, Sr., who operated a threshing machine in the vicinity of South Dixon this year.

Those who participated in the delicious picnic dinner served at noon were: Mr. and Mrs. John Conroy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Brechon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Henry and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson and family, Miss Ina Pay Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. James and Edward Meese, Mr. and Mrs. Hallam Ackert and family, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ortgiesen, Jr. and family, Miss Helen Brechon, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ortgiesen.

Mr. Tourtellott and Dorothy joined the crowd later.

Mr. Ortgiesen treated the crowd with five gallons of ice cream. The afternoon was spent in playing ball. Sides were chosen, umpires selected and this made a form of amusement for themselves who joined in the fun.

As well as for the many visitors. The beautiful scenery of Lowell Park as well as boat rides were pleasures to all.

Marion H. B. Unit Elected Officers

The Marion Unit of the Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. C. C. Ackert Sept. 15th. There were fifteen members and two visitors present. The lesson on Foundation Garments was given by Mrs. Syverud, the home adviser. At this meeting the election of officers was held as follows:

President, Mrs. Henry Ranken, Vice-Chairman, Mrs. E. W. Reez, Sec.-Treas., Mrs. Wm. Daum, Leader, Mrs. C. C. Ackert. Recreation Chairman, Mrs. Robert Livan. After the close of the meeting cooling refreshments were served by the hostess. The October meeting will be held with Mrs. W. M. Gugerty.

AUTUMN LUNCHEON MENU

Rhubarb juice is new and it is refreshing and nutritious. Good to serve for cocktails at luncheon, supper or dinner. All right for breakfast too.

Luncheon Serving Eight
Cream of Mushroom Soup
Cheesed Wafers
Salmon and Cucumber Mold
Nut Bread and Butter
Ripe Olives
Peach Delight
Coffee

Salmon and Cucumber Mold
1 package lemon flavored gelatin mixture

1 1/2 cups boiling water
1/4 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/2 cup salmon
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 cup diced cucumbers
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickles.

Pour water over gelatin mixture and stir until dissolved. Add vinegar, sugar, salt and paprika. Cool and allow to thicken a little. Add rest of ingredients and pour into mold. Chill until stiff. Unmold on lettuce and surround with salad dressing or mayonnaise.

Nut Bread With Graham Flour
(Using sour milk)

2 cups flour
1 1/4 cups Graham flour
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons soda
1/2 cups nuts
1 egg yolk
1 1/4 cups sour milk
2 tablespoons fat

Mix ingredients and pour into large greased loaf pan. Let rise 15 minutes and bake 50 minutes in moderately slow oven.

Peach Delight

1/2 cup sugar
4 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 1/4 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1/4 teaspoon lemon extract
2 cups sliced peaches
8 slices cake

Blend sugar with flour and salt. Add eggs and milk. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until creamy sauce forms. Beat well and add extracts. Chill. Arrange cake on serving plates, top with peaches and cooked custard mixture.

If fresh peaches are used sprinkle 1/4 cup sugar over them just before served.

Two tablespoons catsup spread over Swiss steak just before served adds flavor and color.

Dance Sponsored By White Shrine At Temple Tonight

The White Shrine is sponsoring a dance to be given this evening at Masonic Temple, the first dance of the season.

Last season these dances were anticipated with much pleasure by dancers and no doubt the attendance this evening will be large, as the Quin Bowen Orchestra has been secured to furnish the music.

All arrangements have been made for a delightful evening.

Woman's Club Members Form Calendar

Several afternoons of concentrated efforts throughout the summer months will bring to members of the Dixon Woman's Club a program of unusual worth, during the 1935-36 calendar season. Chairmen of the various departments and the club president, Mrs. Arthur C. Bowers, have completed this part of their work, with the calendar ready for the printer.

Each department of the club is responsible for its own programs which must be of a suitable character. The speakers for the year include such noted lecturers as Rev. Preston Bradley of Chicago; Rev. John B. Hubbard of Park Ridge, State Representative Bernice T. Van Der Vries, speakers from the Illinois Medical Association and the International Harvester Company. Some of the very best of the local speakers and talent are also included in the calendar.

Several departments are also planning considerable auxiliary work aimed at community betterment and welfare.

Board of 13th Dist.

Tomorrow the Dixon Women's Club are hostesses to the board members of the 13th district of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. The meeting will be held at the Methodist church with a delicious luncheon served there at noon. Miss Leone Ort will sing during the afternoon.

Flank Steak Outflanks High Cost Of Living Now

BY MARY E. DAGUE

NEA Service Staff Writer

It seems to me that when I was a girl, washday always was soup meat day. We'd have a rich beef soup, with vegetables or rice or maybe noodles for luncheon, then the soup meat, with boiled vegetables and tasty dessert for supper.

Now, I'm not recommending soup meat for washday. The point is, washday emphasized the cheaper cuts of meat, taught us how good they could be when they were left to cook as long as necessary. And in these days, when economy is so unfortunately imperative, the lesson comes home opportunely, for there still is more of the cheaper cuts of meat available than the dearer.

Flank Steak Is One of Them.

If you have never tried a flank steak, do so. Some morning when the oven is hot for baking put in this rolled flank of beef. Then at dinner time reheat the oven for an hour and bake the extra vegetable and pudding while the meat is finishing.

The meat will cook some in its own heat, and the heat of cooling oven in the morning so an hour at dinner time is plenty of time to thoroughly cook the dish.

You see there is no waste in bone and fat in flank steak although the fibers of the meat are quite tough. For this reason have the butcher score it well on both sides when you order it.

Rolling Flank Steak.

One flank steak, 1 teaspoon mustard, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 2 cups coarse stale crumbs, 4 tablespoons melted butter or meat drippings, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons hot water.

Make a paste of mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, onion and pepper with the stuffing and roll like a jelly roll. Do not roll too tight to have room to expand. Bind securely with a soft cord, dredge with flour and bake two hours in a moderate oven.

To make the stuffing, mix 1 teaspoon salt, onion and pepper with bread crumbs, melt the fat in the hot water and pour over crumbs. Cover and let stand five or ten minutes. Mix lightly with a fork, keeping the stuffing light. The mixture should be just moist enough to hold together but not sticky or pasty.

Instead of using the stuffing, spread the meat with the paste as in the preceding recipe. Cut meat to fit casserole. Oil casserole well with bacon fat. If the steak is cut in three pieces, put one-third of a mixture of vegetables in the casserole, then a layer of meat and so on until all is used.

To Present Concert Here

The Madrigal Quartet, appearing at Masonic Temple October 16th, first in a series of concerts to be sponsored by the Eastern Star and White Shrine.

Add boiling water, about 1 cup, to five cups of vegetables, cover closely and bake an hour and one-half in th morning and one hour at dinner time. Serve from casserole.

The long cooking and the vinegar break down the tough tissues of the meat and leave it very palatable and nourishing. A good combination of vegetables is 1 to 2 cups diced carrots, 2 cups diced potatoes, 1/2 cup dried turnip, and one large onion. These make a very savory dish with the meat.

Practical Club Meeting Tuesday

The Practical Club met at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Leon Hart, Tuesday afternoon for their first meeting after the summer vacation.

The seventeen members present responded to roll call by telling of their vacation, which was indeed interesting to hear.

After a brief business meeting games were enjoyed. Each lady was to find a biblical name from the Old Testament for the entire alphabet. Mrs. Powell won the prize, having 21 names out of the 26. The next game was played the same, using flowers to the alphabet instead of the biblical names. Mrs. E. V. Mellett won by having 22 out of 26.

The ladies enjoyed seeing the beautiful flower garden which Mrs. Hart's mother takes such great pride in raising.

Tempting refreshments were served by the hostess. Upon leaving all expressed having had a most delightful afternoon.

Children Have to Grow Up Emotionally

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

The children were playing games in the front yard and Flo's parents were reading, or appeared to be. Flo did not know that she was being observed rather more carefully than usual this evening, but such was the case.

There had been a good bit of quarrelling recently in the neighborhood, and Flo had come in day after day grumbling about one Ollie Johnson who wanted everything her own way.

Her mother had believed her because Ollie was an outspoken, spunky little girl who wasn't afraid of anybody. Flo was the opposite type with a drooping dissatisfied mouth, and very quiet. Her mother was not playing detective on Flo's account except to see that she had a square deal and to hope the child would stand up for her rights.

Vacillating Interest

First they played "Grammamy Tippy Toe" and Ollie, of course, was Grammamy. After two turns,

Flo said, "I don't like this game. Let's play 'Tag'."

So they played "Eggs". Flo being buyer and Ollie seller. Most of the eggs "broke" when tested and were put in the "ash-can." After awhile two others had the star parts and Flo and Ollie were eggs. Tough little Ollie didn't break when swung by the arms, but Flo did. Very shortly afterward she said, "I don't like this game. Let's play 'Tag'."

"Oh, come on. We want our turns," protested the other candidates. "Flo, you're always getting tired of everything."

"I tell you," said Ollie. "Let's play 'London Bridge'."

"Bridge," shouted Sally Moore promptly.

"I'll sell the forfeits," said Flo quietly.

"You don't have forfeits."

"Well, let's change it. Every one caught has to pay toll, a sock or a ring or something. And I'll say, 'Heavy, heavy, what hangs over and tell you to do things.'"

But London Bridge wasn't half over when Flo said, "I'm tired. I don't want to play any more. I want to read."

"Oh, Flo, we're not tired. If you go you'll break up the game. You're always breaking up the game just when we get started."

Ollie was speaking her mind. "You're selfish," she accused. "You don't think of anybody but yourself. You get tired of everything we play in two seconds."

Flo quietly walked to the steps and sat down.

So! Her mother had the whole picture now. Flo, according to the lecture series she had heard was still an emotional baby. She only stuck at anything until the first thrill was over. She didn't insist on leading, but she was a quitter, not willing to stay when the others wanted to go on. And it had to be games she liked, the thing she felt like doing at the moment.

Tomorrow there would be a talk. The child couldn't go through life picking and choosing and changing her mind like that. She's have to grow up, emotionally, and stop this baby business.

Now Restore Your Hair's Lost Luster

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

In spite of pre-vacation warnings there undoubtedly are a good many women who, right this minute, are wondering how to recondition hair that's become dull, faded and dry from overdoes of sunshine. The majority are asking what to do about lack of natural oil and others want to know how long to wait before making an appointment for a fall permanent.

First of all, don't even consider a new permanent until your hair is back to normal. You can't expect an operator or a particular method to give satisfactory results if you haven't done your part. Permanents merely put curl into the hair you have. They do not make hair grow or give old hair a new sheen and lustre.

Oil Best Remedy

Begin with a hot oil shampoo once a week and, between washings, application of some tonic especially made to correct a dry condition. The tonic ought to be massaged in with fingertips and the hot oil should be put on the night before the shampoo, massaged in and allowed to remain on all night. If you have your hair washed by a professional operator, insist on being left until the steamer until almost all of the oil has been absorbed by the hair and scalp.

Faded ends are sure to be the bane of your existence for weeks. Cut them if you like. Otherwise, keep on with oils and tonics and nightly brushings until they gradually get back to normal. Go without a hat as much as possible and dry your hair in the sunshine whenever you can. This doesn't mean that you should sit in the noonday sun for an hour. Too much bright sunshine got you into your present predicament and to keep on exposing your head to the brightest rays only will serve to slow up the reconditioning process.

Willing Workers Met Tuesday Eve

The Willing Workers Sunday school class of Grace Evangelical church held their meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schilde on Van Buren avenue.

After the regular business meeting, a social evening was spent in visiting, games, etc.

At a late hour, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

CHARLEY MICHELSON'S SPECIALTY

The Pearson-Allen gossip column issued from Washington, one of the columns that as a rule has made President Roosevelt the hero on every act, good or bad, has come out with a purported discovery of the persistency of the presidential boom for Herbert Hoover. They traced it to the brain of Charles Michelson, publicity man of the Roosevelt administration.

Michelson was the chief smearer of the "smear Hoover" campaign, which was carried on throughout the Hoover term. The smearing was financed and directed by the democratic national committee.

It turned out in a manner satisfactory to the smearers.

Now Michelson is like the doctor who had been particularly successful in his treatment of fits. If a patient otherwise afflicted could be thrown into fits, he always was hopeful of effecting a cure.

Mr. Michelson seems to desire to avoid the necessity of curing the people of the anti-New Deal fever, which is growing upon them. He would like to dodge it by throwing them into anti-Hoover fits. He knows how to handle that situation.

Anyhow he has on hand a barrel of used smearing material, which would save him a lot of work. He shows less zeal about having to hunt up a new lot of smear material. He spent four years accumulating the mud spread on Hoover, but between the republican convention of 1936 and the November election he would have only about four months in which to put on the smear.

The columnists said the republicans had been mystified by the persistency of the Hoover boom. It didn't come from Hoover's friends, and certainly it didn't come from his enemies in the republican party.

The fact that he has been exposed, if this be exposure, will not deter Mr. Michelson in his labor in behalf of giving the former president the republican nomination. That's one place in which he doesn't want a New Deal.

JUDGED BY OUR DEEDS, FEW OF US ARE SANE

One of the reasons why reading the newspapers is a joy is the fact that every so often they pop up with a story like the one about the crazy man in Kankakee.

It isn't quite right to call him a crazy man, at that, because he seems to have had right good sense. But, anyway, he was confined in an asylum, having been sent there on petition of his father; and he finally won his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus after he had shown that, although supposedly off his base mentally, he had made $75,000 speculating in stocks.

"No man," remarked the judge, "can make that much money these days on the stock market and be insane."

So, logically enough, he adjudged the man sane and freed him.

Solomon himself could hardly have turned in a sounder ruling. But if the judge's standard is to apply in all similar cases, we may be obliged to build rows upon rows of new asylums for the insane, for the ruling cuts both ways.

That is to say, if you can figure a man's mental capacity by the things he does, and not by the way he responds to some psychiatrist's tests, which of us is safe?

How about the good American (whose name is legion) who went to the stock market in September, 1929, when stocks were all set to fall over the cliff of their own weight, and bought heavily on margin in expectation of a continued rise? What section of the booby hatch does he occupy?

How about the chap who believed all that talk about a new era of high prices, or the man who rushed forth to buy when the Rockefellers, shortly after the crash, announced that they were loading up with good common stocks?

What about the men who find it logical to reduce the output of food at a time when millions don't have enough to eat? How about the people who want to see wages cut when we suffer from lack of purchasing power?

Maybe we'd better not carry this sort of thing any farther. Once we start judging our mental capacity by the imbecile things we do, we are apt to find ourselves parading off to the loony bin by platoons. So very, very few of the things we do these days make sense.

ON THE COLLEGE BEAT

The most interesting college student in America this fall would seem to be Theodore Kowaleski of Middletown, Conn. Kowaleski is 33 years old, a patrolman on the Middletown police force; but he has just entered Wesleyan University to take a pre-medical course, he plans to go to medical college four years hence, and before he is 45 he hopes to hang out his shingle as a doctor.

Kowaleski's schooling was interrupted in 1916 by the death of his father. A few years ago he decided that he wanted to complete it; so he went to Middletown high school, pounding a beat from 6 p. m. to 3 a. m. and getting along on five hours' sleep. He will follow the same routine throughout his university career.

A man with as much determination and ambition as that ought to make quite a mark for himself in the world before he is through. Of all the thousands of undergraduates in America, Kowaleski must be just about the most deserving of a lucky break.

THE TWYMITES

Story by HAL COCHRAN Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

When Duncy stopped his dancing down here. You boys can have the house.

"Up there, we will not hear you snore. A good night's sleep is thus in store. How nice 'twill be down here to have it quiet as a mouse."

"Well, here we go, up 'tward the sky," said Doty. And they climbed up high. The house was very comfy and the boys all slept real sound.

The girls were up at break of day. Below the tree they shouted "Hey!" This woke the other Tinsles, and they slid down to the ground.

Just then some Indians, dressed for war, right by the band of Tinsles, "My goodness," shouted Doty. "I'm as frightened as can be."

"What can this mean, I'd like to know," Then Doty promptly answered, "Oh, don't worry, miss. We'll follow them and very shortly see."

DAILY HEALTH

"SLEEP JUMPING"
"What causes one to jump when asleep in bed?" asks a reader.

This question touches upon some of the deepest problems in psychology and neurology.

The simple answer ordinarily given is that the jumping takes place at the time when there is beginning a "dissolution of the individual's consciousness." But just what is consciousness and how does it become "dissolved" is another matter.

The sudden start of one or more limbs, which all of us at times experience as we are falling asleep, has been explained by one famous neurologist as due to an "inordinate action of the lower centers (in the nervous system), occurring during the gradual withdrawal of the higher control."

Perhaps the reader will find this more intelligible if he will visualize the "levels" of control in the nervous system of the human body. The highest control may be assumed to be exercised by the brain and perhaps especially by the foremost portion of the brain. Other centers placed at descending levels in the brain and spinal cord exercise autonomous local control over muscle groups or portions of the body.

In health and in a wakeful state the various centers of the nervous system are coordinated, so that action, particularly muscle action, is integrated, smooth and mostly purposeful. Movement is without jerk.

But when sleep sets in, there is a marked diminution in the supervisory control exercised by the higher levels of the nervous system, with the result that the lower centers, so-called, are without the restraint heretofore imposed upon them by the brain. The result is often jerky movements in various parts of the body.

The occasional jerk or sudden start in the process of just falling asleep is not abnormal. But if the start is repeated again and again while one is endeavoring to go to sleep, then the condition is pathologic.

Tomorrow—Artificial Respiration.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.—St. Matthew 11:28.

Rest is valuable only so far as it is a contrast. Pursued as an end it becomes a most pitiable condition.—Swing.

The cavalry trumpet used by the Romans, the lituus, was four to five feet long.

Louis Ruins Baer's Heavyweight Career By a Knockout

Californian, Felled To Canvas In Fourth Round, Is Knocked Down Thrice

Brown Bomber Best Heavyweight of Modern Era

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

New York, Sept. 25.—(AP)—It looks like a non-stop fight to the top of the pugilistic heap for the Brown Bomber.

There remained today not the slightest doubt of the two-fisted greatness of Joe Louis, least of all in the minds of upward of 90,000 onlookers who saw the 21-year-old Detroit Negro on his bridal evening mow down the once magnificent Max Baer with a punching blast as deadly as machine gun fire.

Mercilessly, methodically, never wasting a blow and barely slackening a punching pace that has had few equals in heavyweight history, Louis knocked out the former champion in the fourth round of a 15-round match that revived all the glamour of the prize ring in a near-

MAY VISIT DIXON.

Inquiries have been made by local colored friends of the sensational Brown Bomber, Joe Louis, concerning the possibility of his coming to the annual African Methodist church benefit, which would be held in honor of Louis in the event that the Negro boxer and his bride spend part of their honeymoon in Dixon as was originally planned.

Marva Trotter, Chicago stenographer, who became Louis' bride before his battle with Max Baer last night, is the sister of Rev. W. C. Trotter, pastor of the African Methodist church here. It has been rumored that Mr. and Mrs. Louis might visit Rev. Trotter and other Dixon friends on their wedding trip.

Rev. Trotter performed the ceremony of his sister and Louis in New York last night two hours before the fight, in which Louis kayoed Baer.

million dollar spectacle at the Yankee Stadium.

Baer not only was completely outclassed but made the fatal mistake of trying to box Louis. He was knocked down three times, twice in the third round, where the bell saved him as he sat blinking on the floor. He was counted out while swaying on one knee near the end of the fourth round.

Great Fistic Show

It was the greatest heavyweight show but also one of the most one-sided, top-flight heavyweight matches since the famous Tex Rickard died and the great Jack Dempsey retired.

In 11 minutes and 50 seconds the youthful Negro punched Baer into a bloody, senseless wreck, a battered figure still trying to muster the pretense of his once marvelous powers of resistance, fading out of the picture in defeat with magnificent gesture of futility.

It seemed that Louis must have hit Baer nearly 500 times with as vicious a two-handed onslaught as any first-class heavyweight has absorbed since Dempsey slaughtered Jess Willard at Toledo in 1919 or hammered down Luis Angel Firpo at the Polo Grounds in 1923.

It was in the words of a late critic of the fight business, "modified murder" in every sense of the word; a "killing" so devastating and complete as to leave not a single question for dispute.

$200,000 Richer

On his honeymoon today, upward of $200,000 richer, and taking it all with the same coolness that characterizes his amazing ring work-manship, Joe Louis seemingly has no worries about a pugilistic future that contemporary word artists are painting in the gaudiest possible hues.

The Brown Bomber's twenty-fifth consecutive victory and his 21st knockout since he turned professional scarcely 14 months ago capped the climax of the most spectacular march since Dempsey waded through all opposition to the world championship.

The title held by the ex-stevedore, James J. Braddock, is Louis' goal, but it probably will be a year before he gets the chance to claim it for his race for the first time since Jack Johnson ruled the fistic fields.

Will Meet Schmeling

A match with Max Schmeling, the German who once wore the heavyweight crown, is the next major goal for the brilliant Negro. Promoter Mike Jacobs, heir to Rickard's mantle, said he plans to match Louis and Schmeling for a 15-round bout at either of New York's big ball parks next June, the winner to box Braddock for the title in September.

"Louis told me he wants to fight as often as possible," said Jacobs, who already has the Negro under contract for two more years with an option on his fighting services until 1940.

For those who saw Louis crush Baer, there isn't the slightest doubt that the Chocolate Soldier can and will whip Schmeling and then "take" the gallant Braddock. The simple, indisputable fact is that there is no outstanding heavyweight who figures to go the route under the Bomber's barrage.

Was To Give Test
Baer was to provide the big test, demonstrate whether Louis could "take it."

Max may have had fury in his heart, but there was no dynamite in his fists.

After taking a terrific lacing for two rounds, Baer crumpled up under the Negro's two-fisted fire and sagged slowly to the floor for the third round midway in the third round. The blood through which he had grinned insolently, disdainfully in earlier melees, dripped from his face, now a grotesque mask.

As he squatted, the curly-haired Californian managed another smile, and with the instinct of the great showman that he has always been, waved to the crowd that was on its feet, yelling for the "kill."

It was a characteristic Baer gesture, a magnificent touch from a warrior who knew the end was coming. Eyes bleary, Baer staggered to his feet at the count of nine.

He met another withering blast, backed into the ropes, then swayed and toppled again. He was saved this time by the bell, at the count of four.

Warned Frantically.
Frantically Jack Dempsey and other handlers told the battered former champion to "keep punching," but the old fire was gone.

Louis, still in no great hurry, methodically struck his man, shifting his crashing left hooks to the body.

Once Max flicked a back-handed blow to the Bomber's face. The referee admonished him but it was unimportant.

Soon Louis swept in again, smashing two lefts to the head, then a right that put Baer down for the last time. Max's eyes blinked. He was on one knee, swaying a bit. He didn't hear the count and he didn't seem to care.

He was still swaying when Referee Arthur Donovan swung his arm down for the tenth time. Baer was "out" for the first time in his career, in every sense of the word.

There was little or no doubt about the outcome from the first round, when Louis drew first blood with sharp left hooks to the nose and mouth, then backed Baer into a neutral corner and gave him a two-handed lashing that had the crowd wild.

Look It and Grinned.
All Baer did was to demonstrate he could still "take it" and grin.

Only twice did the former champion flash the sort of punching fury that battered down Schmeling and Primo Carnera. Midway in the first round, after being stung by the Bomber's sharpshoot, Max let fly with both hands. He landed hard to the head but yielded quickly to the Negro's counter blast.

In the closing moments of the second round Baer let loose his most spectacular attack. Rushing Louis to the ropes, Max flailed away lustily. He joined Joe with another looping right.

The bell rang but Baer didn't hear it. He punched furiously, trying desperately to land a decisive blow. He did deliver his hardest wallop before the referee could stop the overtime slugfest, but Louis trotted to his corner unhurt.

All told, Baer didn't land a half dozen solid blows. His announcement afterward that he is through with the ring came as no shock to those who witnessed the failure of his attempted comeback.

For supreme nonchalance, however, Baer's career contains nothing to equal the latest achievement of Louis.

Conceded Requests.
The Negro not only conceded all of Baer's requests for special gloves, more hand bandages and tape, but capped the climax by marrying his Chicago sweetheart, Marva Trotter, scarcely two hours before going to the Stadium to face the greatest crowd that has ever seen a sports event in New York.

Receipts fell below expectations of another million-dollar gate, after a lapse of eight years, but the gross total of $932,944, collected from 84,831 cash customers, marked a remarkable fistic comeback as well as a new "high" for any prize fight since the depression.

Dempsey Convinced.
New York, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, who seconded his "pal," Max Baer, thinks there is no heavyweight in sight with a chance to beat Joe Louis.

"Louis is good, there's no doubt about that," said the former world champion today. "It will take a really great fighter to beat him

Millway's Roster Announced For Double-header

Line-ups for the Millway Chix in their double-header softball contest with Sterling and Rock Falls tonight were announced this morning. The games will be played under the airport floodlights tonight beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Dixon's ten will be composed of the following men: Against Sterling at 7:30 P. M., Kuhn, right field; McDonald, third base; Miller, first base; Lebre, second base; Cortright, shortstop; Hasselberg, right field; A. Carlson, center field; Wolford, short field; Lange, catcher, and Fordham, pitcher. Against Rock Falls at 8:30 P. M. the only change in the line-up will be Feldtang, pitcher, and Underwood, catcher. Larry Poole will officiate.

The games are being held for benefit encounters for Tom "Slats" Hasselberg, local softball player, whose leg was broken in a post-season game between the Millways and Sterling last month.

and there's no one around now capable of turning the trick."

Keenly disappointed by his protégé's showing, Dempsey declared that "Baer is all washed up."

"I told him he ought to quit," added the old mauler. "He simply hasn't got it any more."

"I saw Baer out there to fight, not box, but he wouldn't open up, except in one or two brief spurts."

Here and There in Sports World

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Slip Madigan, St. Mary's coach, has thought up a new one. . . . When the Gaels open against Nevada this season, he'll watch the game from the press box instead of the bench. . . . He'll have a spy glass and a special wire connecting him with the bench. . . . If the setup clicks, Slip will use it in all other games. . . . His reason: to see the game better.

Can't you imagine either Max Baer or Joe Louis passing up a quarter of a million berries to win an argument over a pair of boxing gloves? . . . Stories that the Princeton-Penn football opener is a sellout have Tiger grid officials anxious. . . . There are 30,000 seats left.

One of the finest collections of fight pictures ever assembled adorns the wall at Jack Dempsey's spot. . . . Jack and Nat Fleischer, editor of The Ring, worked more than a year getting it together. . . . Chet Wynne, Kentucky coach, thinks he has the best back in the Southeastern conference in Bert Johnson.

During his training, Max Baer's mail was divided into four piles. . . . One from feminine admirers, one from salesmen, another wanting "touches" and a fourth from persons telling him how to lick Joe Louis. . . . The last pile received Max's personal attention. . . . Only ten per cent of the letters were in the first group.

DIZZY GIVEN MOUND DUTIES AGAINST CUBS

Must Use All He Has To Check Grims-men

By ANDY CLARKE

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Dean brothers have found a task that measures up respectably to Dizzy's estimate of their capabilities.

With plenty of rest for their pitching arms, they will be thrown into the path of the oncoming Cubs, sweeping along on the crest of 18 straight victories. Paul faced the first assignment today, with four days of rest, and Dizzy probably will take up the task tomorrow with the same amount of leisure behind him.

The Cards face a tough task, for they must sweep their five game series with the Cubs to haul in the pennant and it will take four to tie. The Cards have won 12 and lost five to Chicago this season but that was before the Cubs soared into the lead by three full games.

The Cards showed they hadn't burned all their powder yesterday when they came back from the humiliating 12-0 defeat of the day before to held the Pirates 11-2.

Held Pirates 11-2

Wild Bill Hallahan held the opposition in check with three hits while his mates collected 11 hits, including homers by Jim Collins and Leo Durocher.

St. Louis sewed the game up in the first inning, Collins' 23rd homer of the season, setting Medwick ahead of him after King had walked, stolen second and scored on Medwick's safety.

The disillusioned Giants took both games of a doubleheader from the Phillies, 6-0, and 7-6. Al Smith pitched tight ball for the Giants in the first, but seven errors by the Phillies contributed to the second victory. Mel Ott hit his 31st homer of the season in the first game.

The Brooklyn Dodgers pushed the Braves a little deeper into the cellar by taking both ends of their double bill 5-3 and 6-5. The second game went 11 innings.

Yanks Beat Senators
The New York Yankees defeated Washington 14-6, pounding Bump Hadley and Olin Rogers for 16 hits.

The New Yorkers scored five runs in the second.

The Cleveland Indians collected 15 hits to defeat the Detroit Tigers 14-7. The Tigers, with the pennant in their belts, allowed the Indians to have what little satisfaction they got from the victory.

Three rookie pitchers were throwing ball all over the lot as the Red Sox downed the Athletics twice, 8-2, and 6-5. Connie Mack ordered in his rookies, who handed out 13 passes.

The Browns took both games in a double-header with the White Sox, 3-0, and 6-3. Irving Burns hit a pair of homers, one in each game.

Five Sandlot Nines

Drop Out of Ball Tournney Picture

Dayton, O., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Five more sandlot teams packed up their suits today and dropped out of the running of the National Baseball Congress tournament.

The five teams—Scribner, Neb.; Webster, S. D.; Battle Creek, Mich.; and two Chicago teams—were eliminated yesterday after losing two games. Only two teams remain undefeated—Huston, Tex., and Oakland, Ill.

Oakland handed Springfield, O., its first defeat of the tournament yesterday, the score being 6 to 3. Oakland also defeated Cincinnati, 9 to 6.

PEOPLE'S RIGHTS IN DANGER SAYS JUDGE THOMPSON

Former Supreme Justice of Illinois Addressed
District Lawyers

Danger of a complete transformation of our system of government from a limited representative democracy to an unlimited bureaucratic empire was sounded by Floyd E. Thompson, Chicago, former associate justice of the Illinois Supreme court, in addressing 200 lawyers and judges on the Sixth Supreme judicial district gathered last night at the Rock River Country club at Oregon for the twentieth annual meeting of the Federation of Local Bar associations.

Former Governor Frank O. Lowden, guest of honor at the banquet last night, called on to address the attorneys and jurists after Thompson had spoken, responded by urging the 200 members of the bar present to take Thompson's talk on the constitution and "carry its message to the people."

Analyze New Trends
Former Justice Thompson's talk and the remarks by Col. Lowden climaxed a day of addresses at the meeting of the local bar association at Oregon in which new legislation and new trends in American life were discussed and analyzed.

DeGoy B. Ellis, Elgin, was elected president of the district organization to succeed Lowell B. Smith, Sycamore. Other officers elected were Reuben R. Tiffany, Freeport, vice-president; John R. Snively, Rockford, secretary, (re-elected); Charles A. Darnell, Plano, treasurer; and Harry C. Warner, Dixon, re-elected member of board of governors of the Illinois State Bar association.

The district bar meeting will be held next year in Freeport, the group of 200 members voted. The attendance was the largest in the history of the district's organization.

Fears For Human Rights

"If this government of freedom is to endure," Thompson declared in his talk, "we must constantly guard against the ingenious inventor of new ways and means of invading the natural rights of the people. We must serve that spirit of individualism that has given the American his high sense of honor and obligation and marked him with a resourcefulness hitherto unknown among men."

Admitting this trend away from representative democracy, Thompson, however, held that the departure has been gradual for the past 70 years and is not to be laid at the doors of the present administration at Washington.

"There has been a definite trend away from the charted course since the turn of the century," Thompson held. "The last few pounds cause the over-load and break the wagon, and so the paternalistic laws recent passed have shown the extent to which this mania for attending to other people's business may go and has awakened our citizens to the danger of centralizing our government in Washington.

"One of the great principles of government which distinguishes the system established under our Federal Constitution and which gives it strength and stability is the reservation to the people, acting through their state governments, all of the powers not granted to the Federal government. With the adoption of our Constitution there was instituted one great consolidated government of the people of all the states instead of government by compact with the states as constituent parts. But the framers of the Constitution wisely recognized the natural divisions of our people by established state lines and reserved the natural rights of the people of each of the states to government. Abraham Lincoln recognized this principle when he declared: 'It is my duty and my authority to maintain inviolate the right of the states to order and control under the Constitution their own affairs by their own judgment exclusively. Such maintenance is essential for the preservation of that balance of power on which our institutions rest.' Patriotic men of all periods in our national history have stood guard against the perils of Federal aggression and usurpation of the people's sovereignty by the people's servant, the government. George Washington, whose great personality served to hold our people together for a quarter of a century, said: 'Let there be no changes by usurpation, for this, though it may in one instance be the instrument of good, is the ordinary weapon by which free governments are destroyed.'"

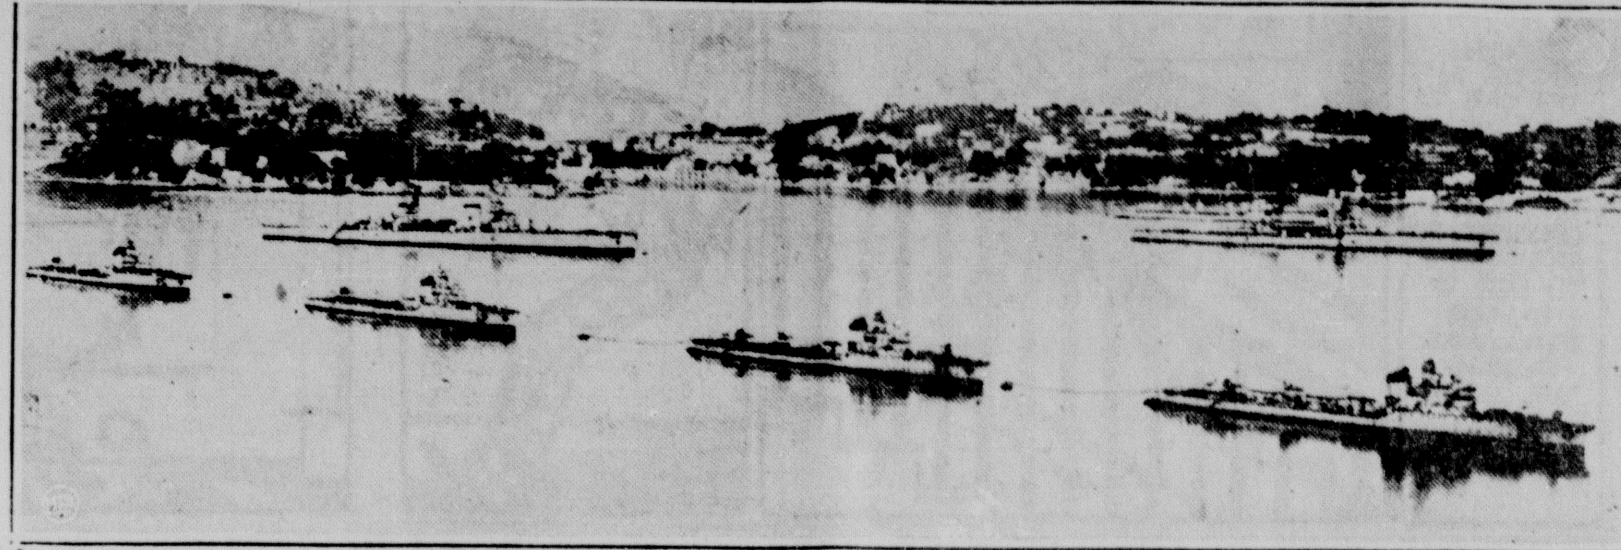

Peril Is Limited
"This illustrious government of federated states has, in spite of the views of Old World statesmen and our own ism-ites to the contrary, worked wonderfully well. It is a flexible system and a temporary false principle of government adopted by one of the states does not disturb the stability of the national Union. The people of the other states who have held to the safe and proven course steady the Ship of State while the misguided unit returns to fundamentals. Under this system each state is a great experimental station. When some new idea is tried and found good in one state, other states can adopt it, but if a new experiment in one state fails it will affect only a limited area and a small group of people and the damage is quickly repaired. This security is threatened by the tendency of the past quarter of a century, which is now assuming dangerous proportions, to transfer to the national government functions essentially local in character. In this lies a real menace to the continuance of the system of government established under our Federal Constitution."

"The American system of government is the product of American minds trained in the school of American politics. It was framed by men who had had actual experience in the administration of government of their particular colonies. This experience was not a brief one. It had extended throughout the 168 years intervening between the meeting of the first legislative assembly at Jamestown July 30, 1619, and the calling of the Philadelphia convention. Most of the delegates to the convention had been educated at Harvard, William and Mary, Yale, Princeton and other American colleges. Seven had signed the Declaration of Independence, ten had served as state judges, eight had helped to frame their state constitutions, and thirty-nine had served in the Continental Congress. These men drafted a scheme of government that excited the admiration of the statesmen of the world. Our Constitution has been described as 'the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man.' That our scheme of government has been eminently successful is demonstrated by the fact that nearly every people has in one form or another copied it. Under this system our people have enjoyed a greater measure of prosperity and happiness than any other. In no other country in the world has it been possible for so many individuals of obscure and humble origin to rise to positions of wealth and influence. All these superior advantages developed under a system of government which has stood the acid test of time and has successfully emerged from the terrific stress of a great Civil war and a great World War. All this great development and promise came to us before the present dangerous tendencies against government under our written Constitution took root."

Speedy Italian Warships Challenge British Dominations at Gibraltar

In secret maneuvers at the straits of Messina, the Italian warships have been demonstrating how they would attempt to close the straits of Gibraltar and cut off Great Britain from its colonies in the event the Suez Canal was closed to Italian transports. Swift modern destroyers and cruisers of the Italian armada, like those pictured above, are said to be speedier than their British counterparts.

PRESIDENT ASKS MINISTERS' AID

Writes to Clergymen of Nation Asking "Counsel and Advice"

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—A nation-wide appeal to clergymen for "counsel and advice" on how "our government can better serve the people" has been launched by President Roosevelt.

At his press conference today the president briefly discussed the letter sent to clergymen in various parts of the country and said he was trying to find out from non-government officials what conditions are.

He did not say so, but the impression many drew from the tone of the letter and from his remarks was that he considered the reaction from clergymen was less likely to be biased than information coming from government representatives in the field.

Asked if he intended to interview other professional groups, the president replied that he had no such plans at present. He emphasized that he was particularly concerned about conditions surrounding the social security and works progress programs.

"Because of the grave responsibilities of my office, I am turning to representative clergymen for counsel and advice, feeling confident that no group can give more accurate or unbiased news," the letter said.

Expressing particular hope that the new social security law and the works program shall be carried out effectively, the letter adds that the president will "deem in a favor if you will write me about conditions in your community."

It also explains that Roosevelt shortly will start a few weeks vacation and hopes the replies will be sent in.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

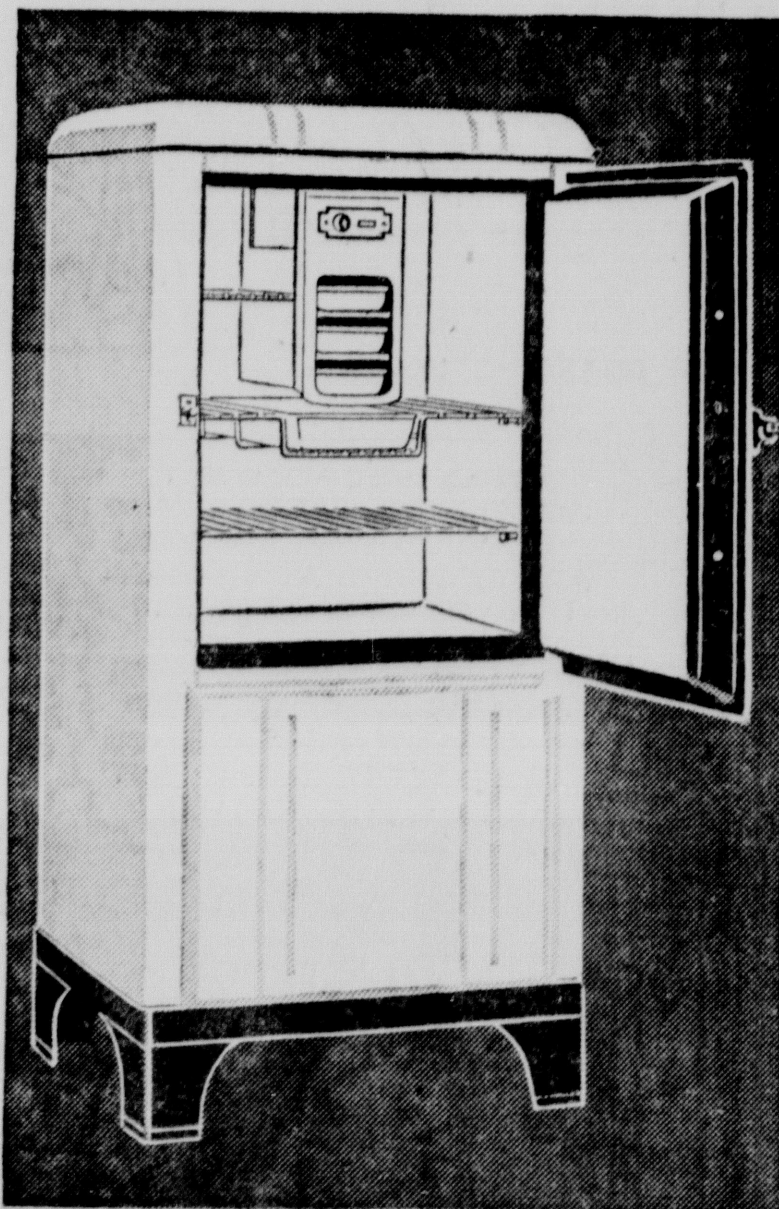

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two quarts of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mass bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two quarts of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c. © 1935, C. W. Co.

PERMANENT CCC ROOSEVELT AIM

Would Enroll 300,000 Young Men in Camps Continually

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Upon industry itself, President Roosevelt today sought to place the basic responsibility for the future of NRA.

What happens, he said at his press conference, will depend upon the activity of chiselers in industry and what, if anything, industry wants done about them. It was his last press conference before starting to the Pacific coast, so Roosevelt discussed almost every phase of government activity. His answers generally flowed an optimistic tenor.

He said there is an increase in employment by private industry of boys from the Civilian Conservation Corps. Enrollments for the corps, he added, will be held to 500,000 after October 1. He proposed 300,000 as a permanent level to be established by next July 1.

The President asserted he expected to have the $4,000,000,000 works fund fully allotted or earmarked before leaving tomorrow night on his western trip.

Questioned about the size of the staff of the skeletonized old NRA, he said this was to be reduced to 2,500 persons, he hoped, in the near future.

If industry can go along meeting fair trade agreements and providing adequate working conditions there will be no need for further action by the government, he contended. If the chiseling element breaks down these attempts then, he said, something will have to be done.

Permanent CCC
He reiterated he planned to ask Congress to make permanent the Civilian Conservation Corps with an annual enrollment of 300,000 men.

The President spoke hopefully of plans for the national youth administration, stating that $27,000,000 has been made available to help boys and girls attend schools.

UNCLE SAM IS UP AGAINST IT

Administration Can't Make Four Billion Fund Go Round

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Struggling to speed up the $4,000,000,000 works program, the government has been up against the problem of how to make the money go round.

Recent shifting of works money from one category to another was understood today to have resulted from figures disclosing that at the rate the money was being allocated it would not provide the 3,500,000 jobs promised by President Roosevelt.

An unpublished report to administration leaders showed that so much had been allocated to high cost projects that the balance would not provide the remaining jobs under Harry Hopkins' low cost works progress administration program.

It was after this report was prepared that the president cut the fund for slum clearance housing project from $250,000,000 to $100,000,000 and limited public works to $323,000,000.

The figures showed that under the housing program it cost almost $5,000 to provide a year's work for one man, while the WPA plan called for less than $800. Public works were estimated to provide one man-year of work for each $1,300 spent.

The private report, prepared some two weeks ago, showed that only about $3,300,000,000 was available for the work relief program out of the total appropriation of $4,880,000,000 in the work and direct relief law because of expenditures and commitments to the old emergency relief program and rural rehabilitation.

LINDY HELPING IN EXPERIMENT

Interested in Rocket to be Used in Stratosphere Study

Roswell, N. M., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh lent shirt sleeved aid to Dr. Robert H. Goddard today in experimental work with a rocket designed to speed at 700 miles an hour in search of new meteorological data.

High hopes of obtaining information that will help conquer aviation's next frontier—the stratosphere—spurred Colonel Lindbergh as he mingled modestly with the staff of the 52-year-old Massachusetts scientist.

He was in work trousers and shirt as he observed developments in the small frame laboratory here and at the 60-foot tower isolated 17 miles from town where the rockets will be fired.

Funds Pledged
The Colonel's companion, Harry F. Guggenheim, New York financier, pledged new funds from his family's foundation for the project.

After a Guggenheim-Goddard statement recounted the progress of preliminary tests, Guggenheim commented simply that he and Lindbergh would "be around for awhile." They arrived late Sunday.

Conjecture immediately developed as to whether the distinguished visitors were waiting to witness a full sized demonstration by a 12-foot long projectile of the vertical flight theory evolved by Dr. Goddard in firing 30 smaller rockets.

Formal language of the statement said "during the coming year the research will be carried further."

They had said, "Seven's one of the best numbers on the clock. If it's clear I'll be in the garden. If it rains I'll be in the big room (her name for the drawing room) and have a fire in the fireplace." She had felt as certain of his coming as if they had put it in writing.

And now it was after 8 and he had not come. A few lights shone from the lower floor of his house, and yet she fancied an unusual stillness about the place. His car was not in the driveway where he usually left it. Could he have been detained at the office? Could he have forgotten to come?

No, not that! Ruth went into the old drawing room and waited with her hands in her lap, trying not to be tense or impatient or fearful, until she heard the courthouse clock strike nine strokes. Indoors they sounded less booming, but still she could count them clearly—one, two, three, and on to the inevitable nine.

She got up from the stiff old haircloth sofa and covered over the fire carefully. Then she swept the hearth with the hearth broom and blew out the two candles that burned on the mantle. After that she went upstairs. In the upper hall Bertha accosted her, almost as if she had been waiting. The old servant said, "Are you going to bed now, Miss Elaine?"

Ruth said, "Yes, Bertha."

Bertha said, "We'll be missing Mr. John now. Seems like when him and his mother get to Washington they never want to come home."

"Washington?" repeated Ruth blankly. "Did you say Washington, Bertha?"

"I saw him leavin'," Bertha replied. "Him and his mother, catchin' the evenin' train just before supper. I thought it was right mean of him to go away before you got your visit out."

Ruth took hold of the stair rail and steadied herself before she turned to go into her room.

She undressed mechanically and went to bed. At first she could not think what this meant. It was too sudden and too amazing. And then, after an hour or two of tossing, she thought she knew: John had found her out and had left in anger and disgust. Not just John alone. John and his mother.

She protested bitterly into her pillow, "I didn't think it would end like this!"

Lying there in the disarranged bed, Ruth knew it would be hours before morning. She could not face that eternity of sleeplessness and despair. She must have a book to read. She got up and put on slippers and robe and tiptoed cautiously down the stairs, carrying her candle.

Her efforts to move silently were defeated, for half way down the stairs a board creaked loudly. Then the tall door into the library stuck, and not until Ruth had hurried herself against it several times did it yield.

The BLUE DOOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY

RUTH WOODSON, pretty, high-spirited girl of 19, in search of work, seeks refuge from a storm in an old stone house with a blue door in the little town of Northville. The queer old caretaker, BERTHA GIBBS, also known as PENNY, thinks Ruth is ELAINE CHALMERS, whose grandfather built the house. Ruth falls in love with the young man next door, JOHN McNEILL, and resolves to stay on a while, posing as "Elaine." Elaine, at Grayson College, vows in a sorority meeting to win the love of her childhood hero, John McNeill. She plans to go to Northville, and writes John a letter telling of her intentions. She goes to Northville for a week-end and learns from her mother, GAVIN DEAL, that her uncle, DUNCAN HUNTER, has escaped from an insane asylum.

John worries about "Elaine" being alone in the old Hunter house with Penny. He receives Elaine's letter and realizes that the girl he has been calling "Elaine" is a fake. However, he loves her and plans to tell her so, but receives a telegram telling of an accident in his sister's family in Washington and asking him to come. John departs for Washington, first leaving with Penny a note addressed to Ruth and asking her to wait for his return.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIII

OLD Bertha stood in the kitchen with John McNeill's letter in her hands, staring at it. She said, "Going away, is he?"

Without compunction she drew the folded paper from the unsealed envelope and applied herself to reading it. The kitchen was light and the writing on the paper was large. She made it out. They were going to Florence's because Florence's husband and two of her children had been hurt in an accident.

"Wait for me!" she read the last sentence aloud. "Your John." So they talked to each other that way, did they? Like sweethearts? Bertha muttered, "I don't want her to wait for him. I want her to go."

She struck a match and burned the letter in the oven of the stove.

After dinner Ruth went out into the tangled garden. The day had been mild for late October, dry and still and hazy. These qualities lingered on into the evening.

At first it was a sort of happiness just to be waiting. She could imagine how it would be when she heard John McNeill coming to her. First the door would bang; then, she'd hear him coming down the porch steps and striding across the lawn to her. Tonight she'd let him put his arm around her . . . and before he left she'd let him kiss her goodnight. It would be their goodby, only he would not know that. Tomorrow morning she was going away. She must go because it was almost time for the other girl to come. No more faith-hearted lingering after tonight! . . . She would leave about 10 o'clock. At 10 o'clock of a morning, she had heard, the world is busiest. Penny would be busy at the back of the house. Mrs. McNeill would be at her housekeeping. John at the factory. . . . But first there would be tonight and John beside her.

OR would there be? When the clock on the courthouse boomed eight times Ruth left the garden and went indoors through one of the library windows. She was puzzled. Last night when he had brought her home from his house he had said to her, "Would 7 o'clock be too soon to start the evening tomorrow?"

She had said, "Seven's one of the best numbers on the clock. If it's clear I'll be in the garden. If it rains I'll be in the big room (her name for the drawing room) and have a fire in the fireplace." She had felt as certain of his coming as if they had put it in writing.

And now it was after 8 and he had not come. A few lights shone from the lower floor of his house, and yet she fancied an unusual stillness about the place. His car was not in the driveway where he usually left it. Could he have been detained at the office? Could he have forgotten to come?

JUNIOR SAFETY PATROL AT ROCHELLE INSTALLED

By SWEN STANGLEY
ROCHELLE—On Friday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. Chief William Hungerford will install in office the recently elected members of the Junior Safety Patrol.

The Rochelle grade schools were among the first, a number of years ago to adopt the Junior Safety Patrol as a feature of a comprehensive safety education program.

These children, who were elected by their schoolmates last Friday to be their representatives on the Junior Patrol, will be presented Sam Brown belts and badges by Chief Hungerford, who will also tell them something of their duties and responsibilities.

The city council and police department urgently request the citizens of Rochelle to help these juvenile members of the traffic department maintain safety standards on the street crossings approaching the Central and Lincoln schools. These junior officers will conduct their younger schoolmates across dangerous intersections and have general supervision over the school traffic problems.

The members of the Junior Patrol are:

Central School—Billy Beck, Don Young, James Harris, Valere Degryse, Everett Jacobson, John Baker, Bob Kepner, Jack Vetter, Mary Drain, Dorothy Ihlen Helen Barnett, Pearl Thompson.

Lincoln School—Mildred Cronk, Billy Burch, Harold Cronk, Keith Sampson, Opal Walton, Ralph Erickson.

We have some very nice box stationery. Prices reasonable.—B. F. S. Prig. Co.

Artist Grew Up With Films

Twenty-five years ago John Ducasca Schulze became the first movie art director, when he painted backdrops for the original nickelodeons. Today, he's still a movie art director, but the job isn't so simple any more. It means planning and experimenting and building up numerous sets for a single picture. He's shown here going over tentative plans for a movie set with Josephine Hutchinson, actress.

The Mills and Petrie Memorial library and gymnasium has been showing some very rapid progress since the laying of the corner stone a little over two weeks ago. Fourteen brick layers and two stone setters are being used at present forming two shifts of workman which makes steady progress possible. The stone for the front of the building is being put in place with the help of a large derrick which is used to handle some of the very heavy pieces. Forms have been poured for two supports of a bleacher section and the two forms for the columns of the stage. Cross walls are also rapidly rising as well as the outer walls, which give more of an idea of the rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Paddock and daughter Louise have enjoyed the past four weeks visiting at the home of Mrs. Paddock's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson at Seattle, Wash. They also spent several days in California and on the way home visited Yellowstone National Park, arriving home last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Henert, Mr. and Mrs. George Henert and Martin Henert, who had been attending to land interests in Olivia, Minn. and visiting with friends and relatives at Dysart, Iowa and neighboring community and at the home of Mrs. George Henert's relatives in northern Iowa returned home the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tilton and baby of Los Angeles, Calif. are visiting at the homes of his father, Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Tilton of Oregon and his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Tilton.

Fearing an outbreak of cholera in 1832, health authorities of Washington, D. C., banned practically every article of food, including fruits, and vegetables, for three months.

The Indian rat snake has a "voice." It sounds like the tone of a tuning fork.

Stories in STAMPS

CITY OF THE MAN OF FIRE

IT was Easter, in the year 1500, when the Portuguese navigator Pedro Alvarez Cabral marooned two of his men on the coast of Brazil and went on to India. One of these sailors, attacked by natives, fired his musket and the strange weapon that shot lightning cowed the Indians into submission. Thus the Indians called the sailor Caramuru, "Man of Fire." According to some, however, the name means "Big Fish Caught Among Rocks," and signifies the patriarch of a new line to which many of the best families in Brazil belong. Caramuru established a village and raised a chapel there. Today the great port of Bahia stands on this spot, and on the site of the chapel is the church of Our Lady of Victory. Three centuries of strife followed until in 1822, Brazil proclaimed its independence. In 1923, Brazil issued the stamp shown here commemorating the centenary of the entry of its troops into Bahia.

PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE
The James Daven 332 1/2 acre farm located 5 1/2 miles north-west of Ohio, 6 1/2 miles northeast of Walnut, 2 miles west of Route 89, on county maintained gravel road.
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 30th
ON PREMISES, STARTING AT 2 P. M.
This is a good combination stock and grain farm, well fenced and tiled and in a good state of cultivation. Buildings consist of 1 room house, good barn 56x58, double corn crib 6,000 bushel capacity, 2 hog houses, granary, garage, chicken house and a good cattle shed 24x18.
There are 2 never failing wells and a wind mill.
There is no drainage or high school tax on this farm. This will make a good home or a profitable investment.
At the same time and place we will offer as a part of this farm, separate the hunting preserve comprising about 40 acres. This is a natural resting place of the mallard duck and more mallards are shot at this preserve each year than at any other club in northern Illinois. There are about 300 young ducks on the preserve that have been raised there this summer.
TERMS—10 per cent of purchase price on day of sale. Balance March 1st, 1936. Abstract furnished showing good and merchantable title.
